

Summer Intensive Study Program in Analytical Psychology

June 28 – July 9, 2010

C.G. Jung Institute Zurich, Küsnacht

This year's Summer Intensive Study Program will lay emphasis on dreams, fairy tales, pictures, music, bodywork, psychology in East and West, the archetypes of male and female, everyday life and human relationship, introduction to coaching.

There will be excursions organised to a site of historic importance for analytical psychology and to the baroque monastery in Einsiedeln with the famous Black Madonna.

The Summer Intensive Study Program provides an excellent opportunity for an exchange of thoughts and social contacts among the Institute's students and participants of different geographical and professional backgrounds.

It is intended that lectures, seminars and discussions can be followed by those with a limited background in Jungian Psychology, but will at the same time be of value to those with professional psychological training and interests. The courses are taught by analysts of the Institute and internationally renowned guest lecturers.

Lectures

- Working for Life – or Living for Work?
The interrelationship between private life and professional life.
Ruth Ammann, dipl. Arch. ETH

- Eros and Human Relationship
Eros opens the collective unconscious to everything from psychosis to mysticism.
John Haule, PhD

- Anaclitic Depression and the Archetype of the Mother
Separation from the archetypal mother.
Janis Maxwell, PhD

- Technical Skills in Picture Interpretation
With one example of the C.G. Jung Institute's Picture Archives.
Vicente Luis de Moura, dipl. Psych.
